Covering the Utes

The sports information office at the University of Utah welcomes your interest in the Utah volleyball program and will make every effort to ensure that your coverage of the Utes is an enjoyable experience. Press credentials, weekly releases and match results are available by calling Scott Pettett, Assistant Sports Information Director, at (801) 581-8302.

To request permission to broadcast Utah home matches, send a request on station letterhead to: Scott Pettett, University of Utah, 1825 E. South Campus Dr., Front, Salt Lake City, UT 84112-0900.

Weekly Interviews

Members of the media who wish to interview Head Coach Beth Launiere should contact her at her office (801) 581-6843 between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. weekdays. Interviews with the athletes must be arranged through (801) 581-8302.

Post-Match Services

Head Coach Beth Launiere and Utah players will be available for interviews outside the Utah locker room following a 10 minute cooling off period. A member of the Utah sports information staff will gather interview requests immediately following the match. Box scores will be provided and faxed upon request.

With the loss of All-American Kim Turner and all-conference libero Jackie Morrill, many wonder what lies ahead for the Utes in 2004. But Head Coach Beth Launiere, entering her 15th season, doesn't have any doubts.

"We worked all spring without them and have addressed who's going to be the go-to players in crunch time," she says. "Do you replace Kim, Jackie and Taryn? No, they were key players, but I believe in this year's players and the idea that they will step up.

"People don't understand the makeup of our team," Launiere continues. "It's going to be an exciting year. We have three tried and tested seniors, and we also have Shelly Sommerfeldt, who is a junior eligibility-wise, but is in her fourth year. Add to that senior Liana Bortoto, who was a junior college All-American, and senior Katrena Ellett, a three-year starter who returns from an LDS mission, and we're much deeper, more experienced and better than people realize."

Last year, Utah went 22-9, advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament and was ranked No. 23 in the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) final poll. Additionally, Turner was the Utes' first-ever All-American, making the AVCA third team.

Kelsie Kartchner's versatility gives the Utes offensive flexibility.

Leading the Utes this season will be senior setters Kelsie Kartchner and Tracy Neumeier. Kartchner is a three-year starter, while Neumeier gained valuable experience last season when the Utes ran a 6-2.

Adding to the attack is senior middle blocker Lyndsey Henderson and the aforementioned Sommerfeldt. Henderson is a two-year starter after transferring from Purdue, and Sommerfeldt is Utah's lone all-conference returner.

Utah also returns five other letterwinners from last year's squad.

Below is a position-by-position breakdown of the 2004 Utes.

Setter

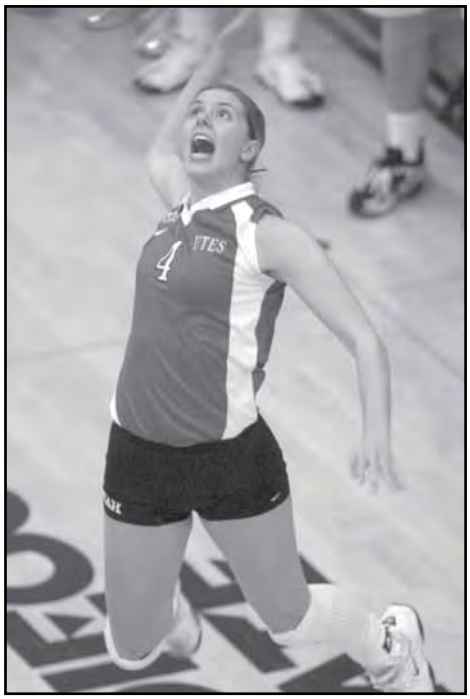
The Utes could run a 6-2 offense again this season as well as a 5-1 with Kartchner at times. Launiere believes the two senior setters are the key to Utah reaching its lofty goals this season. "I feel great about this position," she says. "You can't measure the value of experience. They are working very well together and know that they're a tandem when we're in the 6-2."

Kartchner, who played with the A2 Training Team for the second year in a row, worked a lot on hitting last spring. "Kelsie feels more like a hitter," Launiere notes. "She's one of our key offensive weapons. The role that she plays is very difficult -- she performs all skills for us on the court -- and not many players can do that.

Launiere believes that Neumeier, who started for the majority of the season last year, brings something to the court that no one else on the team does. "Tracy had a great junior year and I fully expect her to bring those intangibles to the court every day," Launiere says.

Junior Katie Theurer, who redshirted last season after transferring from Salt Lake Community College, also returns. "Katie is a very quick, tremendous athlete, who is mentally tough," Launiere explains. "She spent the last year in the gym becoming a better setter, and I have confidence in her if she were needed. She makes us better each day in the gym."

Karlie Porter is a new transfer from SLCC and will redshirt this season. "Karlie will gain a lot of training this season," Launiere explains. "She improved a lot at SLCC, and with a year of training with us, she could be really good. She will definitely give us depth in the future."



Shelly Sommerfeldt earned all-conference honors last season, ranking seventh in the MWC in kills-per-game (3.64).

Outside Hitter

Utah has a great deal of depth at the outside hitter position. "Our outside hitters are a real strength for us," Launiere claims. "I like having a team where this position is a strong point, because the outside hitters get so many swings, so having it as a strength means you know your team will be solid. It gives you lots of options."

Leading the way is Sommerfeldt, the Utes' only returning all-conference player. "I thought last year would be an adjustment to a starting role for Shelly," Launiere admits. "But she didn't just adjust, she took it by storm. She is one of the premier outside hitters in the Mountain West Conference. Look for her role to increase in leadership and as a go-to player."

Also key is junior Danielle Leichliter, who gained a tremendous amount of experience last season when she played in nearly every match. "Danielle's experience is so valuable for us," Launiere says. "Our depth this season will help us a lot, and Danielle helps us in that aspect a lot. She plays her role very well -- she passes, plays defense and can be counted on for her share of kills in a match."

Another key contributor will be Liana Bortoto, a transfer who had to sit out last season due to some unforeseen issues. "Li-ana is a big, powerful hitter on the left side who has the ability to get lots of kills," Launiere explains. "She is a very experienced hitter with a lot of different sets, and her versatility makes her tough to defend. After practicing with us for a year, she is ready to get on the court and compete."

Also returning is sophomore Natalie Miller, who saw limited action last year. "Natalie had a really good spring," Launiere notes. "She also played on the IVA High Performance Team that competed in Argentina over the summer. She's making choices that are giving her a chance to contribute this season."

New to the mix this year is freshman Kate Robison, a three-time first-team all-state pick at Clearfield High School. "I expect Kate to compete right away," Launiere says. "She's a competitor with a high level of experience for her age."

Middle Blocker

The Utah middle blockers will be more of a blocking position than in the past, due in large part to the offensive depth at the antennas. The group will be led by the senior Henderson. "I feel great about Lyndsey in her senior year," Launiere explains. "She will be our No. 1 middle, and she's ready for that responsibility. She was part of the best middle blocking tandem in the conference last season and carried us in a lot of matches late in the season. Her role definitely increases this year -- she'll be the one that has to get it done in the middle."

Sophomore Amie Toone was moved to the middle in the offseason and trained there all spring. "Amie's strengths are her blocking and her quickness," Launiere says. "She is a quick middle that can close blocks, which is something we can definitely use."

Also returning in the middle is sophomore Carlee Kulovitz, who brings a big, physical presence to the net. "Carlee gained so much in the offense in terms of experience," Launiere explains. "She is a really hard worker who can be very offensive for us."

Rounding out the group is freshman Whitney Webb, who will likely play both middle blocker and opposite. "Whitney is a big, physical player who gives us depth," Launiere says.

Lyndsey Henderson is the top returning blocker from a season ago. She averaged 1.12 blocks per game for the Utes.

Opposite

Katrena Ellett returns after a two-year absence to anchor the opposites this season. "Katrena was the starting opposite on our Sweet 16 team in 2001, and was an awfully good volleyball player," Launiere notes. "Obviously two years off affects that, but we know that she's committed to playing the best ball she can play her senior year. She is hands down the most competitive player I've ever coached. She's energetic and emotional and she's got intangibles that I'm very excited to have back."

Also expected to be in the mix is 6-7 freshman Emillie Toone, who made the junior national A2 team. "Everyone talks about her size, but there's so much more to her -- she is a very good athlete," Launiere explains. "She can shut down outside hitters and lots of teams will have match-up problems with her."

Hitter Kelsie Kartchner could also step in and see time playing the opposite position. "Kelsie hit for us last year because we needed more offensive punch," said Launiere. "She proved she can attack and will be one our key hitters when she is in the front row."

Libero/Defensive Specialist

Launiere believes that outside the setter, the libero is possibly the most important position on the court because she is in control of the defense and passing positions. It is one of the few positions that stays on the court full-time and the ideal libero has to be mentally tough because she is in control of so much on the court.

Sophomore Connie Dangerfield, who gained a lot of experience last season as a defensive specialist, will likely get the nod as the libero for the Utes. "Connie is going to be very, very good," Launiere claims. "She worked all spring on understanding the role of libero and made great strides."

New to the team is freshman Lacey Lavarias, who Launiere says has great ball control and defensive mentality. "Lacey is a quick defensive player," Launiere says. "I'm happy to have another player from the islands."

Schedule

Like always, the 2004 Utah schedule is extremely competitive. The Utes will face nine teams that participated in last year's NCAA Tournament. Utah, which is 58-10 at home over the past five seasons, will play home matches against 2003 NCAA Tournament participants UCLA, Saint Mary's, Notre Dame, Brigham Young, Colorado State and Hawaii, as well as Eastern Washington, a team that posted a 22-8 record last year.

UCLA is ranked No. 3 in the preseason while Notre Dame (No. 25), Colorado State (11) and Hawaii (13) are also ranked in the preseason poll.

In addition, the Utes face perennial powerhouses in Long Beach State and UC Irvine on the road.

"Our schedule this season is not for the faint of heart," Launiere notes. "It is one of the most demanding we've ever had and it will allow us to reach our goals if we succeed.

"I've always had the philosophy that you have to play the best to be the best," Launiere continues. "A lot of our tough matches are at home, where we've been very successful in the past."

BETH LAUNIERE

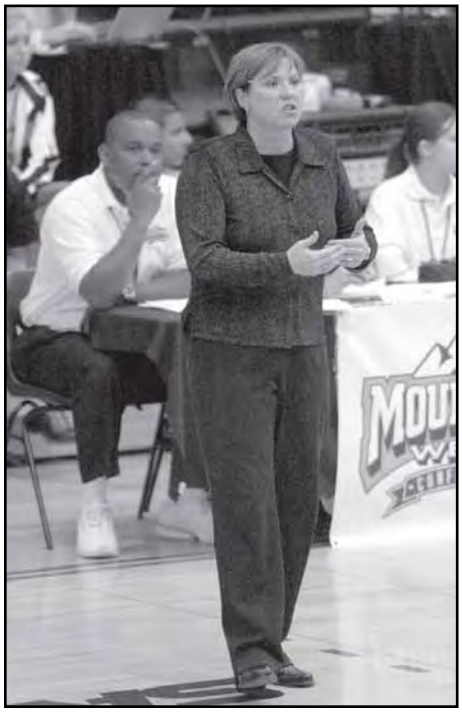
Head Coach ♦ 15th Season

Now in her 15th season at the helm, Beth Launiere has guided Utah volleyball to unprecedented success. The winningest coach in school history, Launiere has overseen a significant transformation since her arrival in 1990. She has led the Utes to 20-win seasons nine of the last 11 years, including eight in a row. Launiere has posted a 275-171 (.617) career record at the U.

Last year, the Utes went 22-9 and 12-2 in Mountain West Conference play, the most ever conference wins by a Utah squad in the 29-year history of the program. The Utes were ranked No. 25 nationally in the final poll after advancing to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

Senior Kim Turner ended her career at Utah as the all-time leader in kills, total blocks, block assists and hitting percentage. The All-American recorded at least one block in 127 of the 128 matches of her career, including 125 straight.

In 2002, for the first time in school history, the Utes were selected as the preseason favorite to capture the MWC crown. Additionally, the team, which was ranked No. 13 nationally in the preseason poll, climbed as high as No. 8 during the season, the first time Utah had broken into the Top 10 in school history. Though the team finished third in the regular-season MWC standings, Utah breezed through the conference tournament, sweeping Wyoming, San Diego State and Brigham Young to claim its second consecutive conference tournament championship. Led by Turner, the Utes then advanced to the NCAA Tournament, where they fell to Texas A&M.



During the 2001 season, Launiere led Utah to its first league tournament title and its maiden trip to the NCAA Sweet 16. As a result, she was named 2001 Tachikara/AVCA Division I West Region Coach of the Year. The Utes (25-7) set the school mark for winning percentage (.781). Utah was a perfect 15-0 at Crimson Court, posting the first undefeated home season in school history.

Utah received its fourth-straight NCAA Tournament berth; but this time, the road to the Sweet 16 went through Salt Lake City. The Utes, seeded No. 14 nationally, defeated Texas Tech in three games (30-24, 31-29, 30-23) in the first round and knocked off Utah State in four games (30-21, 30-18, 26-30, 30-22) to get their first-ever second round win. The Utes eventually lost in the regional semifinals in four games to Stanford, the eventual national champion. Utah was the only team in the NCAA Tournament to take a game from the Cardinal. The Utes finished the season ranked No. 15 in the nation.

The 2000 Utes finished 23-8 and the .742 overall winning percentage was the second-best in school history. The squad was the only volleyball team in school history to beat a No. 1 ranked opponent with a come-from-behind five-game victory over Stanford at Crimson Court. With the win over Stanford and two more wins the next weekend, Utah earned its first-ever national ranking. The Utes came in at No. 18 in the USA Today/AVCA Top 25 poll released on Sept. 11. Launiere recorded her 200th career victory at the MWC Tournament with a four-game win over UNLV on Nov. 16. The team, which was ranked No. 20 in the final poll, defeated Colorado in the first round of the NCAAs, then fell to Hawaii in round two.

The Utes went for 20 wins in 1999, going 22-10 overall and 10-4 in the debut season of the Mountain West Conference. Utah advanced to the second round of the NCAAs for the second consecutive year.

In many ways, 1998 was an important milestone in Launiere's tenure on The Hill. The Utes made it to the second round in their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. Launiere was later honored with the U.'s Don Reddish Coach of the Year award. Utah posted a 21-10 record against a schedule featuring nine teams that made the NCAA Tournament.

In 1997, Launiere's Utes put up the fourth-best winning percentage in school history (.710) by going 22-9. In a season full of highlights, the Utes tied the longest winning streak in the school annals with 11 wins from Sept. 6 through Oct. 2. Utah also equaled its best start to the WAC season, winning its first three matches and going 5-2 through the first half of the league schedule.

Launiere surpassed the 100-career victory plateau in 1996 with a three-game win over Utah State on Sept. 20. The Utes went 20-12 overall on the season and amassed the most wins ever as a WAC member with a 10-6 record to place third in the Mountain Division.

The '95 Utes placed fourth in the WAC with a 7-7 mark. Included in a 3-0 start to the conference season was a shutout of No. 16 Brigham Young, which marked Utah's first defeat of a nationally ranked opponent in a decade.

To fully appreciate what Launiere has accomplished, one must reflect on where she began. The season prior to Launiere's arrival, Utah compiled a 1-32 record. In her first season, Launiere coached the Utes to six more wins than were recorded the previous year, and instilled a new competitive attitude in the program. The instantaneous improvement enabled Launiere to elevate the level of play and bring excitement and fan support back to Utah volleyball.

In Launiere's second season, Utah more than doubled its win total again, going 15-20. In her third season, she won 18 games — the first winning season in seven years — and opened the door to many of the milestones that have since been reached.

The 1993 Utes produced a very successful campaign, going 25-11 and placing fourth in the WAC. Utah also earned its first postseason berth, placing third in the NIVC. Both the Utes as a team, and senior Mikki Kane-Barton, led the nation in blocks — a first for any WAC team.

In 1994, Launiere won her 81st career match at Utah, thus becoming the winningest coach in school history. The Utes were invited to participate in the NIVC for a second-consecutive year, but declined the invitation.

The majority of the biggest names in Utah volleyball have played for Launiere. Turner (2000-03) holds four career records and became the first player in Utah history to be named an American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-American as a third-team selection in 2003.

Brenda Barton-Whicker (1994-97) was the first player in school history to be named an AVCA All-District VII pick '95. She finished her career as Utah's all-time leader in kills, attempts, digs and service aces. Graciela Torres-Lopez (1996-99) took over as the Utes' all-time leader in career assists at the end of the 1998 season. Sara Shakula (1995-98) is second all-time in kills.

Former Utah assistant coach Linda Byington (1990-91) is second all-time in hitting efficiency. Kane-Barton (1992-93) is fourth all-time in blocks at the U., while Katie Tagge (1993-95), ranks third on the all-time assists chart.

McKelle Stilson (1998-01) finished her career third all-time in hitting efficiency, first in block assists, first in total blocks and third in kills.

Launiere gained coaching experience on the international level in the summer of 1996, taking the USA All-Star Team on a two week tour of England. The team, consisting of 14-17 year-old girls, was sponsored by the USA Volleyball Youth Developmental Program. Launiere has also been a member of the AVCA All-America Committee.

Prior to coming to Utah, the Grand Rapids, Mich., native spent two successful seasons (1988-89) as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois. The Fightin' Illini went to two NCAA Tournaments, advanced to the 1988 Final Four and posted a 57-12 record during Launiere's stay.

As an assistant at Ferris State (Mich.) from 1985-87, Launiere helped guide the Bulldogs to three postseason appearances and a berth in the 1987 NCAA Division II Final Four.

Launiere is a 1985 graduate of Aquinas College (Mich.), where she earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and economics. She also has a master's in sports administration from Illinois.

The 41-year-old Launiere is the fifth coach in the 29-year history of Utah volleyball and has a tenure longer than any of her predecessors.

MATT MCSHANE

Assistant Coach ♦ 4th Season

First assistant Matt McShane, in his fourth season at Utah, has an extensive coaching and playing background and has thus established an impressive reputation in the volleyball arena. He is the primary on-court trainer, and performs video and statistical analysis.

Before joining the Utes, McShane was an associate head coach at New Mexico from 1987-2000. In 11 successful years in Albuquerque, he helped guide the Lobos to a 189-127 record, an 81-63 conference mark, two conference championships and six trips to the NCAA Tournament.

During the summer of '02, McShane served as the head coach for the USA National A2 Team, while in the summer of 2001, he was the head coach for the Intermountain Volleyball Association (IVA) High Performance Team that toured Europe.

In 1996, McShane was named an assistant coach of the USA Women's National Team at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo. While with the U.S. National team, McShane designed and ran practice sessions, did video analysis of the U.S. team and the major teams in the world, and prepared scouting reports on U.S. opponents.

McShane's coaching background also includes assisting Chinese national "Jenny" Lang Ping with the Yaohan International Volleyball Team in 1996. The team was comprised of the best American and Russian players who competed against the Chinese and Cuban National teams in cities throughout China.

Additionally, McShane served as an assistant coach at Brigham Young University from 1980-1982.

McShane is a member of the USAV Coaches Accreditation Program Cadre (CAP Level III). Each year he does numerous clinics throughout the U.S., teaching other college, high school and junior coaches the fundamentals of volleyball.

As an undergraduate at UC Santa Barbara, McShane played on the only intercollegiate team to win the USAV Open National Championship. The UCSB teams finished second in the NCAA Championships in 1974 and '75, and finished third in the NCAA Regional Championships in 1976. He was an All-American for the Gauchos in 1974 .

McShane earned his B.A. from UCSB in 1974 and his master's degree from BYU in 1982. While at BYU, he played on the men's club team that finished third at USAV Open National Championship in 1981.

In his spare time McShane enjoys skiing, golfing and reading.

JASON SMITH

Assistant Coach ♦ 2nd Season

Former Avila College (Mo.) head coach Jason Smith is in his second year as an assistant coach with the Utes. He is primarily responsible for the coordination of Utah's recruiting program, team travel, equipment and banquet.

Before coming to Utah, Smith served two seasons as an assistant at Ferris State University (Mich.). In Smith's first season at Ferris State, the Bulldogs compiled a 21-11 overall record and placed second in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. During the 2002 campaign, Ferris State posted a 24-7 overall mark, the program's fifth consecutive 20-win season. The Bulldogs also claimed their 11th NCAA Division II Tournament bid.

Prior to his work at Ferris State, Smith served as an assistant coach at Iowa Western Community College. During the 2000 season, he helped guide the Revivers to a 41-7 mark and a 10th-place finish at the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) National Tournament. He had spent the three previous years as the director of telecommunications at Transamerica Life Insurance Company in Kansas City, Mo.

Prior to his corporate position, Smith spent two years as the head coach and two seasons as an assistant at Avila. During that stint, his teams were nationally ranked in both passing and defensive statistics. In 1994, as an assistant, the Eagles won a conference championship and earned a berth in the regional playoffs. That squad was also the nation's top-ranked passing team.

The 34-year-old Smith got his collegiate coaching start as an assistant at Avila during the 1993 campaign, when the Eagles advanced to the district playoffs.

Smith played collegiate volleyball for four years at Graceland College in Lamoni, Iowa, where he was a member of three regional championship teams and was a three-time all-region pick. During his final season in '92, he was the team captain as well as MVP.

Smith, who earned a bachelor's degree in business and economics from Graceland in 1992, has served as a volunteer statistician for the United States men's national team.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS

Kim Turner

Taryn Horner

Joining the Ute program as fifth-year student assistants are former volleyball players Kim Turner and Taryn Horner.

Turner joins the sidelines after earning All-America honors last season. A middle blocker, Turner holds four career records at Utah. She is the Utes' all-time leader in kills (1,620), total blocks (670), block assists (589) and hitting percentage, and ranks in the top five in two other categories.

Horner, a four-year player for the Utes, was a libero on the 2003 squad. She recorded 15 service aces and was fourth on the team with 1.45 digs per game.

Both Turner and Horner plan on graduating in May of 2005.

Strength & Conditioning

The Ute volleyball players benefit from a certified strength and conditioning program. They train in the Dee Glen Smith Center's 7,500-square foot, glass enclosed strength and conditioning facility, using programs designed by director of strength and conditioning Matt Balis, MA CSCS.

This is Balis' first year as the director of strength and conditioning, his second year on staff at Utah.

Balis oversees a staff of five, including assistant Jason Bell, Jon Webster, Kyle Bierlein, Annette Hill and Greg Argust.

Hill manages the daily strength and conditioning care for the Utah volleyball team. In her first year at Utah, she graduated from Weber State with a degree in lifestyle management. Hill has spent the last seven years between UNLV and her alma matar.

Sports Medicine

Utah volleyball enjoys a partnership with a veteran sports medicine team, headed by orthopedic surgeon Dr. Bob Burks and family practitioner Dr. Liz Joy.

Burks, the head team physician for the University of Utah athletics department, has been its orthopedic surgeon since 1998. He also directs the University of Utah Sports Medicine Center at Red Butte Clinic and is an associate professor of orthopedic surgery at the U.

Dr. Joy, a former collegiate athlete herself (she lettered in volleyball and track at Minnesota), is in her seventh year as Utah's team physician. She also practices family and sports medicine at the University of Utah Family Health Center. Joy is chairperson of the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine.

The Utes also utilize Dr. Maria Newton, a sport psychologist. Newton has been with the university for four years and is an assistant professor in the department of exercise and sport science. She teaches sport psychology and sociology classes and is also a consultant with a number of athletes in a variety of sports in the Salt Lake City area.

The Utes' nutritional care is under the charge of sports nutrition consultant Claudia Wilson, now in her sixth year with the volleyball team. Wilson, MS, RD, who is also a clinical dietician for the University of Utah Nutrition Clinic, specializes in sports nutrition, female athlete triad disorders and eating disorders. She is a member of the American Dietetics Association and Sports and Cardiovascular and Wellness Nutritionists (SCAN), an ADA practice group.

The daily physical care of the Utes is handled by the sports medicine staff. Toni Kemmochi enters his first year at Utah as a graduate assistant volleyball trainer. Kemmochi earned his bachelor's degree in athletic training from Ball State in Dec. of 2003. He is currently working on his master's in sport psychology at Utah and is expected to finish in May of 2006.

The entire sports medicine staff is overseen by director Bill Bean and associate director Deb Willardson. They both have more than 25 years of experience at the University of Utah. The three other full-time assistants on staff in the sports medicine department are Tom Iriye, Trevor Jameson and Bob Toth.

Academics/Career Counseling

Mary Bowman, an assistant athletics director and Utah's director of student-athlete support services, oversees academic advising, career counseling and the NCAA LifeSkills program. The academic advising staff includes Chris Reilly, director of academic services; Rob Rainey, assistant director; and JoAnn Hulbert-Eagan, academic advisor/learning specialist. The staff operates from the 10,000 square foot Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center, which is designated solely for Utah's varsity student-athletes.

Rainey, in his 13th year at Utah, is the advisor for the Ute women's volleyball team. He holds master's degrees in elementary education from Wilkes (1988) and counselor education from Penn State (1990).

Manny Hendrix, a former starter for the Dallas Cowboys, is in his 10th year as Utah's director of athletic relations. Hendrix, who played basketball at the U. as an undergraduate, now assists student-athletes in career planning. He also runs the Partnering with U. program, which provides internships and summer jobs.

Athletics Director/Special Assistant to the President

Dr. Chris Hill, Utah's director of athletics and special assistant to the president of the University of Utah, has carried Utah athletics into national prominence. Hill was just 37 years old when he was named director of athletics back in October of 1987.

His vision reaches beyond the athletics department. Since 1998, he has been a special assistant to the U. president and a member of the University's senior administrative cabinet. On a national level, Hill was appointed to the prestigious NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee in February of 2004. His term starts this fall. In April, he became the first-ever recipient of the Mountain West Conference's Commissioner's Award, for achieving "a singularly distinguished accomplishment during the current academic year that has significantly enhanced the Mountain West Conference." He was the NCAA-appointed chairman of the Championships/Competition Cabinet from 1997-98 and a former member of the NCAA Management Council—serving on its administrative committee. In 2002-03, he was elected to the executive committee of the National Association of Collegiate Athletics Directors (NACDA).

But Hill's biggest strides have come on campus, where his tenure has been charged with capital improvements, an emphasis on student-athlete support, academics, and winning programs. In 2002, Utah was named one the top 20 athletics programs in the nation by U.S.News & World Report, based on winning percentage, graduation rate, number of sports and gender equity.

Hill is the driving force behind Utah's athletics success and its numerous national-caliber facilities. His fund-raising efforts reached an international stage when beautiful $50 million Rice-Eccles Stadium hosted the Opening and Closing Ceremonies for the 2002 Salt Lake Olympic Winter Games. Also close to Hill's heart is the new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center. (See inset for a complete list of facilities built during his term).

On the playing field, Utah is a conference and national power under Hill's leadership. One of the many highlights was the men's basketball team making the 1998 NCAA Final Four and playing in the championship game. Utah has also captured multiple national championships in gymnastics and skiing (most recently in 2003) since he became director of athletics and the football team has appeared in seven bowl games.

Hill positioned himself for the top athletics job after two highly successful years as the director of development for the Crimson Club. The New Jersey native first came to the U. as a graduate assistant basketball coach (1973-74) under Bill Foster. He was an assistant under Jerry Pimm from 1979-81.

Between his coaching and administrative stints with Utah athletics, Hill was executive director of United Cerebral Palsy of Utah (1981-85), where he raised $750,000 in federal, state and private funding for a housing project for people with severe physical disabilities.

Among his many awards are a 1981 Milton Bennion Fellowship, 1984 Utah Recreation Therapy Association Outstanding Service award and 1996 Utah MS Sportsperson of the Year award. He was a 1998 Inductee into the Jersey Shore Hall of Fame. Hill currently serves on the Regence BlueCross BlueShield Board of Directors. In 2001, the National Consortium for Academics and Sports gave him its Degree Completion and Outreach and Community Service Honor Award.

As an undergraduate, Hill lettered three years and was co-captain of the 1971-72 Rutgers basketball team. His bachelor's degree from Rutgers is in math education (1972). He also has a master's in education (Utah, 1974), and a Ph.D. in educational administration (Utah, 1982). Hill taught in the University's special education department from 1983-85. He coached boys basketball at Granger High (Utah) from 1975-79, winning 4A coach of the year his first year.

Hill, 54, is married to the former Kathy Cronin, a member of the faculty in the U. department of special education. They have two children: Aly and Christopher. Aly played soccer for the University of Oregon and received her master's of social work degree from Utah in 2002. She is married to former Ute skier Ryan Forsyth. Christopher is a senior majoring in organizational communication at the University of Utah.

Utes qualify for NCAA Tournament for sixth season in a row, advance to second round

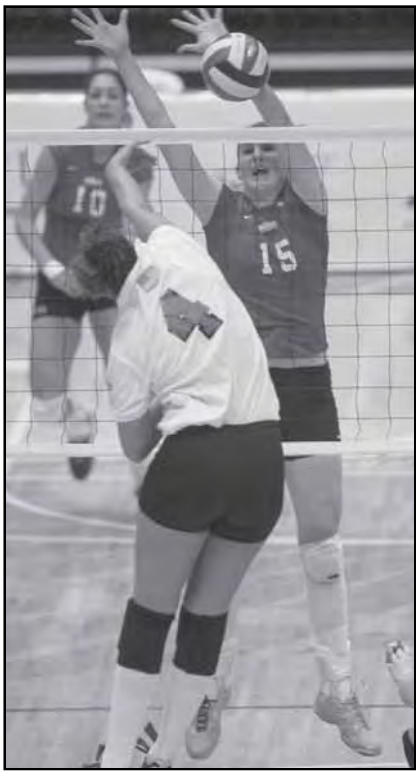
The 2003 season was an exciting one for the Ute volleyball team. Utah put together an extremely successful season, finishing 22-9, advancing to the second round of the NCAA Tournament and hitting the 20-win plateau for the eighth-successive season. The Utes finished the year ranked No. 25 in the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) poll.

In addition, for the second year in a row, the Utes beat in-state rival Brigham Young three times during the season. Utah also defeated Missouri and Santa Clara, both of which were ranked in the Top 20 nationally.

As a team, Utah ranked in the top half of the Mountain West Conference in all but one statistical category, and set a school record for hitting percentage in a season with .258. Individually, senior Kim Turner ranked second in the MWC in kills and blocks and was third in hitting percentage. Several other Utes ranked in the Top 10 in various statistics.

Turner was named co-MWC Player of the Year for the second year in a row, was a first-team All-West Region pick and became Utah's first-ever All-American when she was named to the AVCA third team. Meanwhile, sophomore Shelly Sommerfeldt was named to the all-conference team after averaging 3.64 kills per game.

At the MWC Tournament, Utah swept Wyoming and Brigham Young to advance to the championship match against Colorado State. In a heartbreaker, the Utes lost in four games (26-30, 30-23, 20-30, 28-30). Turner, Sommerfeldt and senior Jackie Morrill (Top Libero) were named to the all-tournament team.



As one of the top players in the Mountain West Conference, Kim Turner ended her career with All-America third team honors and co-MWC Player of the Year accolades.

At the NCAA Tournament, the Utes came from behind two games to upset Santa Clara, the No. 13 team in the nation, in five games (26-30, 25-30, 30-20, 30-24, 15-12). The following night, it seemed as though Utah was out of gas, falling in three straight to host and No. 14 Washington.

As a team, Utah set the record for hitting efficiency (.512) in its Oct. 3 match at New Mexico. Individually, Sommerfeldt set the attempts record in a five-game match with 69 at Notre Dame.

Several Utes finished the season ranked in the top 10 in various season statistical categories. Turner was first in hitting efficiency (.367), third in kills (490), tied for seventh in block assists (144) and ninth in total blocks (170. Morrill ranked third in digs with 389.

Turner finished her career as the all-time leader in kills (1,620), hitting percentage (.326), total blocks (670) and block assists (589), and ranked second in games played (456), third in attempts (3,306) and block solos (81), and fourth in matches played (128). Morrill finished in fifth place all-time in career digs (1,032), while Kelsie Kartchner moved into fourth place all-time in assists (2,825).

The Utes erased a two-games-to-zero deficit to beat Santa Clara in the first round of the NCAA tournament, 3-2.

Overall record: 22-9 Conference: 12-2 Home: 11-2 Away: 6-5 Neutral: 5-2

Entering its fifth year, the Mountain West is emerging as one of the nation's top conferences.

After ranking as one of the top leagues in the nation in its first five years, the Mountain West Conference begins its sixth year of competition with aspirations for continued success on the national level. The MWC has sent at least two teams (three in 1999, 2000 and 2003) to the NCAA Tournament in each of its five seasons, and sent a record four teams to the 2001 NCAA Tournament. It was also one of just five conferences to have multiple teams in the Sweet 16 three straight years (1999-2001).

A total of 10 teams have been ranked in the final USA Today Top 25 poll the past five years, and after producing 12 All-Americans in five seasons, the MWC will look to build on its volleyball tradition in 2004.

The Mountain West ranked sixth in the nation for volleyball attendance from 1999-2001, and ranked seventh last year. The league's teams have also been tough to handle on their home courts. The past four years, Colorado State is 63-6 (.913) at Moby Arena, while the Utah is 47-8 (.855) at home, including a 39-4 mark the past three seasons. BYU has made it difficult for the opposition at Smith Fieldhouse, posting a 45-17 (.726) record the past fours years.

The Mountain West Conference was conceived on May 26, 1998, when the presidents of eight institutions — Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, New Mexico, San Diego State, UNLV, Utah and Wyoming — met in Denver and decided to form the MWC.

The cornerstone of the conference's formation was the maintenance of long standing athletic rivalries among its member institutions. Hence the Mountain West Conference was formed. Located in Colorado Springs, Colo., when the MWC's doors opened for business the new league had in place a seven-year contract with ESPN giving the broadcaster exclusive national television rights to MWC football and men's basketball; and three-year agreements to send the league's football champion to the Liberty Bowl and a second team to the Las Vegas Bowl.

The Conference officially began operations on July 1, 1999. Prior to opening it doors an executive committee was established and named Craig Thompson commissioner. Thompson had less than one-year to name the new league, settle on a city to serve as the league's headquarters, find a television partner, arrange for bowl tie-ins, hire staff, and develop a logo.

The Mountain West Conference is noted for its geographic diversity. Some of the most beautiful geography in the nation can be found within Mountain West Conference boundaries, including the unparalleled Rocky Mountain range, which borders four MWC schools (Utah, BYU, Air Force and Colorado State). The high plains of Wyoming (elevation 7,000 feet) contrast with the desert city of Las Vegas (the fastest growing metropolitan area in the West), the balmy weather and Pacific Ocean locale of San Diego State and the southwestern flavor of New Mexico.

Highlights through the MWC's first four years include three women's cross country national championships; participation in 12 bowl games; sending six of the eight teams to postseason bowls; the only conference each of the last two seasons to send 75 percent of its men's basketball teams to postseason play; 11 berths in the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament, including three "Sweet 16" appearances; sending five of eight men's golf teams to NCAAs each of the last four years; 11 NCAA Volleyball berths with two teams advancing to the "Sweet 16" three of the last four years; and being the only conference with multiple bowl games to go unbeaten in the 2000 postseason - posting a 3-0 mark.

In addition to the 19 MWC-sponsored sports, programs like Utah and BYU have national titles in non-league sports. The Utes have won a total of 21 national championships in the sports of women's gymnastics and skiing, while BYU captured the 2001 and 1998 NCAA men's volleyball championship.

NIVC Semifinalists/Steve Lowe Award 1993

On its way to placing third at the 1993 National Invitational Volleyball Championship, Utah earned the Steve Lowe Award, embodying competitive excellence, inspiration and fair play. The award is named in honor of the former head coach at Wisconsin, who guided the Badgers to the championship of the inaugural NIVC Tournament in 1989 and died of cancer in 1991.

In addition to playing at Crimson Court, the Utah volleyball team enjoys the finest strength, rehabilitation and training equipment available in the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center.

Crimson Court

One of the finest volleyball-only facilities in the nation, Crimson Court provides a great home court environment for Utah volleyball. It replaced the old home of the Ute volleyball team after the 1993 team set a school record for wins in a season with 25.

It has become one of the more intimidating competition venues in the country with intimate seating for 1,500 to 2,000 spectators. In fact, in the last five seasons, Utah has racked up a 58-10 (.853) home record and has tallied a 30-5 (.857) mark in conference matches.

After a $165,000 renovation project, the court was officially dedicated on Sept. 9, 1994. It was christened by both a win over Montana State and a marathon five-game victory over San Jose State in the Utah Classic.

The largest crowd ever recorded at Crimson Court assembled on Nov. 14, 1997, when 1,573 fans watched Utah battle in-state rival Brigham Young. During the 2001 season, Utah set the single-season attendance record when 12,020 fans watched the Utes over the course of 15 games for an average of 801 fans per game.

Crimson Court is considered one of the finest facilities in the Mountain West Conference — a league that has quickly earned a reputation as one of the strongest in the country. It is home to a Ute team that has made the NCAA Tournament each of the last six years.

The Utah volleyball team trains in the 7,500 square foot weight room located in the Dee Glen Smith Center. Enclosed by glass, the view from the weight room is of the Wasatch Mountain Range to the east and the Oquirrh Mountains to the west.

The weight room is equipped with 12 Olympic platforms, each with its own self-contained power rack/multi-purpose lifting station.

UTAH AND THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

In recent years, the Utah volleyball program has developed a rich history of success in the postseason. The team has participated in the NCAA Tournament each of the last six years, and the 2001 team concluded the season with a loss in the Sweet 16 to eventual national champion Stanford.

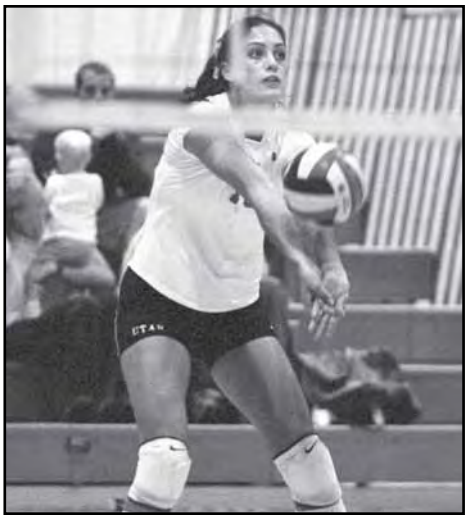
The Utes qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 1998, receiving an at-large bid as the eighth seed in the Pacific Region. Utah defeated ninth-seeded Illinois State in three games in the first round, then lost to top-seeded Nebraska in four games in the second round.

In 1999, Utah, seeded No. 9 in the Mountain Region, defeated eighth seeded Colorado in three games in the first round and lost to top-seeded Hawaii in three games in the second round.

The following year, in 2000, the Utes were the No. 8 seed in the West Region and defeated Texas Tech, 3-2 in the first round the tourney. The team then lost to Hawaii, 3-0, in the second round.

The team's Sweet 16 appearance in 2001 was the first time in Utah volleyball history that a team had advanced to regionals.

In 2002, after an impressive four-game win over then-No. 12 Arizona to conclude the regular season, the Utes were somewhat disappointed when placed in the same region for the NCAA Tournament with USC, the No. 1 team in the nation. Utah ended up losing to Texas A&M in the first round.



Junior Sylva Strzinkova notched a double-double (12 kills, 13 digs) in Utah's Sweet 16 loss to Stanford in 2001.

Last year, down 0-2 to No. 13 Santa Clara in the first round, Utah rallied for a thrilling five-game victory. The following night, the Utes fell in three games to host Washington.

"Every year we play a nationally-competitive schedule to prepare for the NCAA Tournament," Head Coach Beth Launiere says. "Our goal is to continue to go to the NCAA Tournament year in and year out."

In 2001, Utah defeated Texas Tech and Utah State at Crimson Court in the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament to secure its first-ever Sweet 16 appearance.

QUOTING LAUNIERE OVER THE YEARS

Here's what Head Coach Beth Launiere has had to say about her team making the NCAA Tournament over the past five years:

1998 - "I'm really excited. It's just a great feeling -- something you work so hard for the whole year. I'm pleased for the program and the players who came before this group. There have been a lot of people who worked a lot of hard hours to get us to this point."

1999 - "I'm so happy for our team because we really exceeded our expectations. We've gotten really good leadership from our captains and this is a group of kids with great attitudes. It seemed like every match somebody different stepped up."

2000 - "It's funny how things have changed for our program. We used to be happy just to get a bid to the tournament and now we're playing for the seed. We felt like we put ourselves in the position to have a better seed than we got. I'm really surprised especially since we've done so well in the tournament the last two years."

2001 - "I'm really excited for our program. Hosting the NCAAs will give us a better chance of making it to the Sweet 16. We've never hosted before in the history of Utah volleyball and it's going to be great."

2002 - "We are happy to be in the NCAA Tournament - there are a lot of teams that aren't. USC is close enough for family and friends to go, so hopefully we'll get some fan support, which is really important in the NCAAs."

2003 - "I'm really happy with our draw. Seattle is a really fun town and it's close, so family can go. If there's anything we learned from last year, it's that wherever you get sent, you go and enjoy the fact that you're playing in the national tournament, the big dance."

Kim Turner capped a stellar career when she was named to the AVCA All-America third team - the first All-American in Ute history.

Kim Turner

Kim Turner not only solidified herself as one of the premiere Mountain West Conference players during her career, but she ended it with AVCA All-America third team honors - the first Ute in volleyball history to garner such laurels.

The 6-2 middle blocker was among the top players in the country, ranking 18th in the nation in blocks per game (1.48) and 31st in hitting percentage (.367).

Turner's senior year ended with Co-Mountain West Conference Player of the Year honors for the second year in a row and led the MWC in hitting percentage (.434) and points per game (5.61), and ranked second in kills (4.53) and blocks (1.47).

During conference play, she had 231 kills, the top season total in conference matches in MWC history. In addition, her .434 season hitting percentage in conference play was good for third place all-time in the MWC.

Turner reached double-digit kills in 30 of 31 matches in 2003 and had nine double-doubles and two triple-doubles on the year. The all-time MWC leader in both kills and blocks, Turner led Utah in blocks in 23 of 31 matches and in kills 16 times.

Turner ended her four years ranked first in the Utah career record books in kills (1,620), total blocks (670), block assists (589) and hitting percentage (.324), third in block solos (81) and fourth in attempts (3,306). She posted at least one block in 127 of her 128 career matches, including 125 straight.

During the summer of 2002, several Ute volleyball players and Head Coach Beth Launiere participated in various United States training and international volleyball competitions.

The USA Select Team pictured with the Romanian team.

In May of 2003, Kartchner and Head Coach Beth Launiere spent 11 days in Brno, Czech Republic, as part of the USA Select Team. Sanctioned by USA Volleyball, the USA Select Team is comprised of top collegiate players, including many women who are considered part of the USA Volleyball "pipeline" of potential National Team athletes. Among the competition were nine European teams, including Czech Republic, Slovakia, Slovenia, Romania, Estonia, Turkey, Denmark, and Sweden.

Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Athletics Academic Center

The student in "student-athlete" got a big boost in March of 2001, when the stunning new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center opened on the U. campus. Designed solely to serve the U.'s varsity student-athletes, the Burbidge Center is without peer in terms of aesthetics, technology and academic service.

The 10,000 square foot facility is already a campus landmark, with its sweeping floor to ceiling, curved glass wall on the two-story north side. Its location is ideal for the population it serves: Situated between the U. Natatorium and the Huntsman Center, the Burbidge Center is central to Utah's classrooms and athletic venues.

The full-service academic facility, utilized by all 19 varsity Utah athletic teams, was underwritten by a generous $2 million gift from the Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. family. The center consolidated Utah's athletic-academic efforts, both in terms of computer labs and study space, and academic counseling. The upper level also provides a social gathering place for the student-athletes.

The mission of the Burbidge Family Athletics Academic Center is to provide an integrated learning environment that will enhance the academic and personal development of all student-athletes. The objective is to accommodate the diverse needs and schedules of Utah's student-athletes through a wide range of individual and group support services, computer technologies and independent study opportunities.

BURBIDGE CENTER FACTS

- 10,000 square feet of space
- Lab with 25 computers
- Student-Athlete Lounge with pop-in email computers
- Life Skills/Career Center
- Academic advising and Life Skills staff offices
- Group and one-on-one tutoring rooms
- Large study table area

ATHLETIC-ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

STUDY TABLE
Required of all freshman athletes their first semester. Open to all athletes, regardless of year or GPA. Study table is offered at both the Burbidge Athletics Academic Center and the Heritage Commons Residence Halls.

TUTORIAL PROGRAM
Individual tutors for any class free of charge.

TESTING CENTER
Offers student-athletes information on possible career choices through the Strong Interest Inventory given to all freshmen in the Life Skills class.

INTERNSHIPS
The "Partnering with U." program offers career mentoring, shadowing and internship opportunities with area businesses.

FIFTH-YEAR SENIOR PROGRAM
Provides financial assistance to those no longer on athletic scholarship (have finished their four-year athletic career), but who wish to get their degrees.

SUMMER SCHOOL
Financial aid for summer school is available to Ute athletes who meet the criteria.

PRIORITY REGISTRATION
U. student-athletes are permitted to register for classes before the rest of the student body.

UTE VOLLEYBALL TEAM ACADEMIC HIGHLIGHTS

- 8 Academic All-MWC Honorees
- 15 Honor Roll Members (8 in fall, 7 in spring)
- 6 Dean's List Members (3 in fall, 3 in spring)
- 3.07 combined team GPA for 2002-03 academic year

Heritage Commons Residence Halls

University of Utah students live in exquisite surroundings in Heritage Commons, which opened amid great fanfare in 2000. Heritage Commons received world-wide acclaim in 2002 when it served as the Athletes Village during the XIX Olympic Winter and Paralympic Games, hosted by Salt Lake City. The living-learning community, now home to some 3,500 students, is the heart of campus activity and exudes a vibrant, energetic "college town" atmosphere.

Game and exercise rooms, computer labs, Internet connections in every room, and a dining room that is open all day and serves up freshly cooked meals on request are some of the reasons behind the School of the Year award delivered by the Intermountain Affiliate of College and University Residence Halls. Residence hall students also thrive academically at Utah: More than half of them maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher.

Situated in historic Fort Douglas at the mouth of Red Butte Canyon and located on 70 acres of land, the expansive 912,000 square foot residential complex boasts picturesque views of Salt Lake City and the surrounding mountain ranges. Heritage Commons consists of 21 buildings–20 residential and one for dining and support services. Eight of the buildings are apartment style, with 235 one, two and three-bedroom apartments.

First-year students live in Gateway Heights, a hall with furnished, double semi-suites, an advanced telecommunications system (voice, video and data), an ethernet connection to the U. student computer system, cable TV connections, a large community lounge, study rooms and indoor bike storage. Each floor has a kitchenette.

Chapel Glen is home to both first-year students and upperclassmen and offers the same amenities as Gateway Heights, along with a fitness area. Sage Point is reserved for upper division students and has single, double and deluxe suites. Sage Point also has computer and technology labs and an international area. The U.T.E. program is housed in Chapel Glen and Sage Point. An acronym for Undergraduate Tradition of Excellence Program, its goal is to broaden students' appreciation for tolerating various lifestyles, cultures, attitudes and values.

Benchmark Plaza is an apartment complex allocated for single students who have earned 60-plus credit hours. Shoreline Ridge, which offers both furnished and unfurnished apartment units, is reserved for students with families and single graduate students.

The Chase N. Peterson Heritage Center, open 24 hours a day, seven days a week during peak demand periods, is the hub of activity in the student housing village. It contains a central dining facility that seats 600, a convenience store, computer and technology labs, fitness and game rooms, four multipurpose rooms, a mail center and more. The student "village" also contains a University Bookstore branch, University Copy Center and the University Guest House, an on-campus hotel.

Transportation is another benefit of Heritage Commons. A U of U parking permit allows residents to park close to their hall, but a car is not necessary. Free campus shuttles run every 10 minutes and the Utah Transit Authority and light rail (TRAX), free to U. students, combine to traverse 21 routes to and from campus. TRAX extends to downtown Salt Lake and outlying areas as well. The residence halls are also easily accessible to main campus by foot and are connected via the state-of-the-art George S. Eccles 2002 Legacy Bridge.

The U of U sits on a 1,500-acre campus below the Wasatch Mountains.

The University of Utah, a hub for higher education from the Rockies to the Sierras, boasts an academic reputation that is rivaled only by its breathtaking location. To the east rise the 11,500 foot, snow-capped peaks of the Wasatch Mountains. To the west the Great Salt Lake shimmers beneath the Oquirrh Mountains. The 1,500-acre campus, nestled in the foothills of the Wasatch Mountains, is a beautiful collage of native and exotic trees, fountains, flowering malls and pedestrian walkways.

Of the more than 3,500 colleges and universities in the United States, 88 are classified by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching as Research I universities—those which offer a full range of undergraduate programs, are committed to graduate education, and give research high priority. The University of Utah is a Research I university.

The U. also offers a lively residential living experience in beautiful new Heritage Commons, a multi-purpose residence complex located in historic Fort Douglas on the eastern edge of campus. Opened in 2000, Heritage Commons served as the Athletes Village for the 2002 Olympic Winter Games. Approximately 3,500 students live on campus in residence halls and apartments.

Outside the classroom, Utah students enjoy unparalleled outdoor diversions, from skiing and snowboarding at any of eight world-class resorts in nearby canyons, to backpacking, mountain biking, fly fishing and river running.

The U.'s location in the largest city in the Intermountain West (population 1,333,914) also provides a metropolitan charm. The 36th largest metro area in the nation, Salt Lake is home to professional symphony, ballet, modern dance, opera and theater companies, as well as the NBA's Utah Jazz, Triple A baseball's Salt Lake Stingers and the AHL's Utah Grizzlies.

The University offers more than 100 undergraduate degree programs and 93 graduate majors and draws its 28,000-plus student population from all 50 states and 108 foreign countries. Ninety-five percent of Utah's faculty members hold the highest degree in their fields.

Founded in 1850, the U. has established itself as an international center for medical and engineering research. It manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 40 high-tech companies created by University faculty. The Huntsman Cancer Institute and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute make Utah the primary research company in the nation for understanding the genetic basis of cancer. In the 2002 National Science Foundation report, Utah was ranked 46th among research universities receiving federal grants. The U. is listed 19th nationally in corporate funding for research. The University is a leader in technology transfer and frequently ranks first in the nation in number of inventions per million dollars expended for research. Inventions include a wearable kidney, robotic technology and the Utah artificial arm.

Utah is also a hub in the computer world. The Center for High Performance Computing links the U. to major aerospace industries, high-tech manufacturers and research companies. The Department of Computer Science is ranked in the top 20 computer science research departments in the nation. The U. was named one of five finalists in the science category of the 1998 Computerworld Smithsonian Awards. Back in 1970, the U. became the fourth node on the Internet. In 2002, U.S.News & World Report named Utah to its Honor Roll of College Sports: one of only 20 schools in the whole country to receive such mention.

The University of Utah, one of the state's largest employers, has the only medical, social work, architecture and pharmacy schools in a multi-state area. Its many top-flight facilities include a center for dance, a health sciences center, public radio and television stations, three libraries and numerous centers and laboratories devoted to research.

The U. provides a lot of fun, too. Over a million people enjoy the University of Utah's athletic, entertainment and cultural offerings each year. And the U. is known as a site of championships in the athletic arena, having served as host to a number of national tournaments, including the 1979 NCAA Basketball Final Four, eight National Women's Gymnastics Championships, three NCAA Ski Championships and two National Women's Tennis Championships.

Surrounded by awe-inspiring geographical landmarks, Salt Lake City offers majestic views in all directions

Salt Lake City, home to the University of Utah, combines the amenities of a major metropolitan area with beautiful natural surroundings. With 181,743 residents, Salt Lake City is the largest city in the state, and its metro population of 1,333,914 ranks 36th in the nation. However, Salt Lake maintains the charm of a small western city, and it was cited by the FBI in a 2002 report as one of the safest large cities in the world. Its scenery, location, cultural and recreational opportunities and accessibility to the world help make Salt Lake a draw for major events like the 2002 Winter Olympics.

Surrounded by awe-inspiring geographical landmarks, Salt Lake City offers majestic views in all directions. To the east are the 11,500-foot peaks of the Wasatch Mountains ("mountains of many waters," as named by the Paiute Indians), which are part of the Rocky Mountain range. To the west soar the Oquirrh Mountains (pronounced Oaker and meaning "the shining mountains"). In between is the Great Salt Lake, also known as America's Dead Sea. It is the world's second largest saltwater lake and is nine times saltier than an ocean.

Salt Lake's economy matches its natural wonders in impressiveness. City and State, which is published for local government officials, ranked Salt Lake No. 1 among 195 cities in terms of economic strength. Salt Lake is the financial, educational, distribution, warehousing, commercial, cultural and communications hub of the Intermountain region. It is the center to world-renowned medical and technological industries. Of the 50 states, Utah has the second-largest concentration of computer software firms, one of the four largest concentrations of biomedical firms and 450 high tech firms employing 13,000 people. Sixty-percent of Salt Lake City households own at least one computer, making it the most "wired" city in the nation.

Tourism is also a big employer. Skiing is a $500 million annual industry in Utah and most of those dollars are generated in the Salt Lake area. The 2002 Winter Olympics added millions of dollars to the Salt Lake economy. Eight world-class ski resorts are located within 30 minutes of Salt Lake International Airport and downtown Salt Lake, with several more an hour's drive away.

Cultural and ethnic activities flourish in Salt Lake City. Fifteen art galleries are located in the downtown, alone. Salt Lake has more professional dance companies than any city but New York City and also boasts professional symphony, opera and theater. It is a stopover for numerous Broadway shows, as well as ethnic festivals throughout the year. Some of these annual festivals include the Blues Festival, Greek Festival, Hispanic Fiesta Days, Bluegrass Festival and Living Traditions Festival.

Of Salt Lake's ethnic population, Hispanic, Native American and Asian/Pacific residents are found in greater numbers than the national average, while the African-American community is dynamic and growing.

Professional sports are big in Salt Lake City, with a National Basketball Association franchise (the Utah Jazz), Triple A baseball (the Salt Lake Stingers) and AHL hockey (the Utah Grizzlies).

Recreational opportunities abound and 10 national parks are a day's drive from Salt Lake City. Fly fishing, backpacking, mountain biking and river running are a part of life in Salt Lake City. In its December 2000 issue, Money cited Salt Lake as the West's most livable city. LIFE has ranked Salt Lake City one of the top vacation getaways in the country. In 2003, Employment Review.com rated Salt Lake as the 10th best place to live and work in North America. With four distinct seasons, a humidity average of 15 percent and mostly sunny days, Salt Lake City offers pleasant weather conditions year round.

Salt Lake City's charms are easily accessible even to those from out of state. The Salt Lake City International Airport is two and a half hours or less by air from half of the nation's population. The airport is located just 15 minutes from the University of Utah and ranks as the 23rd largest airport in the nation. The airlines serving Salt Lake City operate over 300 daily departures to 71 nonstop destinations throughout the U.S. and Canada.
